

When you need dental care, see a network dentist

With an average of 42%¹ savings, it just makes sense

From routine preventive care to specialty care from oral surgeons and orthodontists, you'll save more on the care you and your family need by seeing an in-network provider. Plus, Guardian has one of the nation's largest dental networks making it easier for you to use your benefits whenever and wherever you need.²

Here's how:

- Your dental plan emphasizes preventive care. Not only does this help foster your family's overall well-being, it also helps minimize the need for costly dental procedures down the road. And did you know that keeping up with regular preventive care can facilitate early detection of other potentially serious physical and mental health conditions, like diabetes and dementia?³ Preventive care, which includes routine cleanings, x-rays, and more, is generally covered at no cost to you by your plan.
- You'll save even more when you need more. Your plan lets you see any dental care provider you like, but when you see a network provider, you'll save an average of 42% more on the care you need — especially when you need a specialist, such as an oral surgeon or orthodontist.

Plus, with Guardian, you and your family can access premium savings on oral health products like electric toothbrushes, mouthguards, and more. All through Guardian Anytime or the mobile app.
